

Metro Press Clipping Bureau
202 Centerville Street
Denham Springs, LA 70726
(225)791-8888

Hammond Daily Star
Hammond, La
Daily (Except Sat.)

May 30, 2008

Seminars focus on government contracts

The Southeastern Louisiana University Small Business Development Center, St. Tammany Economic Development Foundation and Louisiana Procurement Technical Assistance Center will present two free seminars concerning government contracts in June.

The seminars will be held at Southeastern's St. Tammany Center, on the third floor of the parish government complex, 21354 Koop Drive.

"Obtaining and Managing a Government Construction Contract" will be on June 17, while "Preparing Your Cost or Price Proposal" will be the topic on June 18.

Both seminars are scheduled from 9-11 a.m.; pre-registration is preferred.

The government construction contract seminar will discuss the current policies and procedures mandated under construction contracts, specifics in a construction solicitation and the Davis Bacon and Service Contract Acts.

The June 18 seminar will cover a topics related to preparing cost and price proposals, such as the two basic groups of contracts, types of specifications, bid, proposal, labor and cost elements, payroll expenses, fringe benefits, holiday pay and labor hours, direct and indirect costs, reasonable profit, contract price and unallowable costs.

Call (985) 549-3831 or e-mail sbdc@selu.edu.